

Best Practices for Accepting Electronic Payment

Join host Scott Clasen as he interviews Adam Holden, director of sales at LexCharge, a legal specific payment processing company. They'll discuss why law firms should accept electronic payment, how to choose the right processor, and how to make it easy for your clients to pay you electronically.