

Mac friendly replacement for Timeslips

It can be a headache having to deal with stubborn PC-only programs such as Sage's Timeslips. When you switch devices you don't want to learn that you cannot keep using the same apps you were using with your previous choice of device. There can be a need for a particular type of application that may be available on Windows, but rest assured there are Mac alternatives that you may find to be an enhanced version of your previous choice of software. Macs are business-friendly machines and here at TimeSolv, we understand that attorneys don't want to spend their valuable time looking into getting technology to adapt to their personal needs in helping to get the best service across to serve clients; that's why TimeSolv can be used across both PC and Mac devices.

If you've recently switched from a PC to a Mac and need a Mac-friendly alternative to Sage's Timeslips, TimeSolv offers an incredibly well designed legal billing and project management structure for your law firm to save time and money with. Migrating to a cloud-based solution from old legacy software is in itself beneficial for the progress of your firm's use of technology in doing business with clients. To put it simply, cloud-based computing is working on the internet. Cloud computing is quickly becoming the norm for the way we work and serve our clients. Why? Because compared to software's downloaded on a physical computer or server, it is far more efficient, productive, and enables quicker cash flow through the unlimited benefits of using the internet for business and communication with clients.

TimeSolv has several beneficial and unmatched features, which includes faster and more capable invoice generating than Timeslips. Let's take a look at all the different features TimeSolv has to offer to help your business progress and grow economically:
