

Tip of the Week: Billing Done for You

Outsourced legal billing reduces the time-consuming tasks of invoicing and collections by streamlining your billing process. Having a system in place where your billing is done for you frees staff to spend their valuable time on more profitable tasks. Without these tools, a lot of law firm members would find themselves spending hours upon hours working to complete invoicing and collections.

With outsourced legal billing you can achieve:

- Faster collections
- Efficient reporting
- Greater efficiency in the billing process
- Significant cost saving

Time is money, so why spend so much of it doing your own billing when you don't have to. TimeSolv offers to do your billing for you that provides a fast, efficient, and cost-effective solution for billing, which is perfect when you need to free up as much time as possible for other tasks. It's the ideal choice for lawyers who recognize the advantages of applying their valuable time to practicing law instead of creating invoices.
