

Tip of the Week: Submit Tips and Ideas for Firms During COVID-19

COVID-19 was declared a pandemic in early March. While this virus rapidly spreads, we suffer from a great deal of apprehension and disruption in our daily lives. While law firms are being greatly affected worldwide with their daily business operations, reliance on technology has gained importance when times like these are forcing everyone to consider safety first and work from home.

So what exactly should your law firm be doing right now? What strategies can help you tackle concerns regarding the general operation of your business, employees, your use of technology, and revision of budgets? How can you best help your clients through this pandemic?

TimeSolv has created a page where our clients can rally together and help each other through these difficult times when inexpert decisions need to be made. There will be those of you in areas severely affected by the virus, and those of you nervously anticipating the rapid growth of the pandemic to hit you soon, and this is the time for the TimeSolv community to bring heads together, share and candidly discuss experiences dealing with the outbreak, and help others explore crisis management ideas for internal use and for dealing with clients.

For this week's Tip of the Week, we simply want to ask our customers to submit their best tips and ideas for firms to stay operational and successful during the pandemic. Customers can submit their tips and ideas from this URL: <https://share.hsforms.com/1F9NkyS4ySweBGp2JQUbw9A2duyg>
